Spartaco Announces Acquisition Of Tiiger

Spartaco has acquired Tiiger, a company that manufactures and commercializes pole pulling equipment and other products for the power utility industry. This acquisition will solidify Spartaco's position as a preeminent supplier into that industry. The Tiiger brand embodies the same characteristics of our legacy brands – quality, innovation and customer service.

Caleb Brown has been promoted to the position of Product Manager for the Tiiger product line. He will be the product expert for this new line.
